Vol. 29, No. 1/2020

We are pleased to announce that we are currently indexed in the Scopus database. Scopus is a bibliographic database containing abstracts and citations for the academic journal articles in top-level subject fields. Our Central European Journal of Sport Sciences and Medicine could not be missed in such a collection. The journal does serve as a forum for current research from around the world in the field of Sport Sciences and Medicine and our reviews guarantee only high quality texts. Most of the authors currently prefer the Scopus indexing – join them too and get started with us! We invite you to publish scientific articles in our quarterly journal.

Sincerely,

Editor-in-Chief, Central European Journal of Sport Sciences and Medicine
